COMPILER'S NOTICE.

After diligent efforts to secure full information respecting every name in this Catalogue, the compiler finds his knowledge in many cases still imperfect. He most earnestly calls upon every one interested, to aid in completing the record, and in correcting any errors, by sending specific notice of the same, at an early day, to the Librarian of the College, so that the next issue of the Catalogue may be as accurate as possible.

PRESIDENTS.

REV. JACOB RUTSEN HARDENBERGH, D.D.

Appointed, 1785; died, 1790.

He was the son of Col. Johannis Hardenbergh, of Rosendale, Ulster County, New York, who was a large landholder, a prominent man in public affairs, an influential member of the Coetus party, and one of the original trustees of Queen's College designated in the charter. The grandfather of Col. Hardenbergh was the first of the name who came to this country, about the middle of the seventeenth century. Jacob Rutsen was born at Rosendale, Ulster County, New York, in 1738. He studied at the Kingston Academy, and completed his theological course with Domine John Frelinghuysen, at Raritan, Somerset County, New Jersey, and succeeded his Preceptor there in his pastoral charge. He visited Holland and other parts of Europe, and upon his return was made D.D. by the College at Princeton. Resigning his pastoral charge at Raritan in 1781, he removed to his native place and took charge of the churches of Marbletown, Rochester and Wawarsing, which he served five years. Dr. Derick Romeyn having, in 1785, declined a call to the presidency of Queen's College, Dr. Hardenbergh was elected the same year. He accepted and entered on his office in 1786, becoming at the same time pastor of the Reformed Dutch Church, of New Brunswick. He died in the discharge of the duties of these offices in October, 1790. He was an ardent patriot in our revolutionary struggle, contributing both by his oratory and his pen to the cause of the independence of these States, and was a member of the convention which framed the first Constitution of New Jersey.

After the decease of the Rev. Dr. Hardenbergh, the Rev. Dr. John H. Livingston was elected to the presidency of the College, but he declined. In 1791, Rev. Dr. Theodoric Romeyn was elected to the same office, but he also declined.

REV. WILLIAM LINN, D.D.

President pro tempore from 1791 to 1794; died, 1808.

He was born in Pennsylvania, February 22, 1752, and was graduated from the College of New Jersey in 1772. Three years later he was licensed to preach the Gospel by the Donegal Presbytery, and in 1776 he served as a chaplain in the American army. In 1777 he was called to the pastorate of the Presbyterian Church at Big Spring, Pennsylvania, where he labored for a period of seven years. He then took charge of an Academy in Somerset County, Maryland, but after an experience of two years in teaching, settled again over a church in Elizabethtown, New Jersey. From 1787 to 1805 he preached in the Collegiate Church, New York, and while there he acted also as the President of Rutgers College, of which he had been elected a Trustee in 1787. His interest and wisdom in matters of education are also reflected in the fact that for twenty-one years previous to his death, in 1808, he served as one of the Regents of the University of the State of New York. Dr. Linn was "an ardent and impassioned preacher. On special occasions his performances were masterpieces." Of large and earnest sympathies, he became deeply interested in politics as well as in the cause of education, and extended his influence in many directions.

REV. IRA CONDICT, D.D.

President pro tempore from 1794 to 1810; died, 1810.

He was born at Orange, New Jersey, February 21, 1764. After his graduation from the College of New Jersey, in 1784, he studied theology under Dr. John Woodhull, of Monmouth, and was licensed by the Presbytery of New Brunswick in 1786. The Presbyterian Churches of Hardwick, Newtown and Shappenock enjoyed his services as pastor for six years until 1794, when he was installed over the Reformed Dutch Church at New Brunswick. Though actively engaged in his church work, Dr. Condict found time and energy to originate a new movement for the revival, in 1807, of the College, which, owing to financial embarrassments, had been obliged to suspend exercises twelve years previously. Under his leadership the Trustees determined to raise, by the help of the Reformed Churches, $12,000 for the erection of a substantial and spacious building and to open the College immediately. Dr. Condict assumed the duties of President pro tempore, and instructed the highest class, which entered Junior. In 1809 he was regularly appointed Professor of Moral Philosophy and Vice President. Dr. Condict was indefatigable in soliciting subscriptions for the new building, and when $10,000 had been raised it was begun. This edifice, noble and beautiful in its proportions, now stands in the center of the campus which it adorns. Dr. Condict laid its corner-stone with his left hand, in consequence of suffering a temporary lameness in his right. Dying in 1810, he did not live to see the full fruit of his beneficent energies and sacrifices. Honored by being elected to the presidency, he, however, declined it, deeming "the office," says Justice Bradley, "incompatible with the duties he owed to his church, which he continued to perform in their fullest extent. The amount of strain on the mind and body of this eminent and faithful man must, at this period, have been immense. He had the pastoral care of one of the largest churches in the denomination. He taught the College classes, the Junior class in 1807–8, and the Junior and Senior classes in 1808-9 and 1809-10. He also, as a leading member of the Board of Trustees, was actively engaged in all the concerns of the College, especially in the efforts to collect funds for erecting the new building, and causing the work duly to progress. He procured by his own exertions subscriptions, in the city of New Brunswick and its vicinity, to the amount of $6,370, during the year 1807, and continued his efforts in that direction during the time the College was building. Such an accumulation of labors and responsibilities was more than human nature could bear. Like his predecessor, Dr. Hardenbergh, he was destined to spend and be spent in the cause of the College. No wonder that his face, as it looks down upon us from yonder frame in the chapel, has a sad and wearied look. No wonder that the cord of life snapped under the tension, when he was yet in the very prime of his years and usefulness. Which of us has done what he did before reaching his forty-eighth year? Here again we see exemplified the great truth that 'life is measured by its work.'"

REV. JOHN H. LIVINGSTON, D.D., S.T.P.

Appointed, 1810; died, January 20, 1825.

Dr. Livingston was a man of noble character, of extensive and accurate learning, and of large and commanding influence. He was, however, mainly interested in his theological professorship, which he held in connection with the presidency; and indeed he did little more in the College than "to preside on public occasions and sign diplomas." It was during his period of office that the literary exercises of the College were, in 1816, again suspended, and not resumed until 1825. The causes of this were financial distress and divided counsels. He was the son of Henry Livingston and Sarah Conklin, born at Poughkeepsie, May 30, A. D. 1746, graduated at Yale College in July, 1762. In May, 1766, he sailed for Holland, and studied theology at Utrecht. Licensed by the Classis of Amsterdam, June 5, 1769; made Doctor of Theology by the University of Utrecht in May, 1770; returned to New York, September, 1770, having been ordained a pastor of the church in that city by the Classis of Amsterdam; preached there until New York was occupied by the British in September, 1776; preached at Kingston, Albany, Poughkeepsie, and neighboring places during the Revolution; returned to New York soon after the evacuation, November 25, 1783; appointed Professor of Theology by General Synod, October, 1784; inaugurated in the city of New York, May 19, 1785; taught in New York and Flatbush, Long Island, until 1810, when he removed to New Brunswick, New Jersey, having been appointed President of Queen's College. He died in New Brunswick, January 20, 1825.

REV. PHILIP MILLEDOLER, D.D., S.T.P.

Appointed, 1825; resigned, 1840; died, 1852.

He was born at Rhinebeck, New York, September 22, A. D. 1775, the only son of John and Anna Milledoler, who had emigrated from Geneva, Switzerland, some years before; graduated at Columbia College in 1792; ordained by the Synod of the German Reformed Church May 17, 1794; called to the German Reformed Church in Nassau street the same year; became pastor of the Third Presbyterian Church in Philadelphia in 1800; called to the Presbyterian Collegiate Church in New York, with special care of the Rutgers Street Church, in 1805; in 1813 called to the Collegiate Reformed Dutch Church in New York, where he remained until he was appointed Professor of Didactic Theology and President of Rutgers College in 1825 He died on Staten Island in 1852, on his seventy-seventh birthday. Dr. Milledoler was distinguished for his early and fervent piety, for catholic sympathies which led him to take an active part in many of the benevolent enterprises of his day, and above all for an unction in prayer that seemed akin to inspiration.

ABRAHAM BRUYN HASBROUCK, LL.D.

Appointed, 1840; resigned, 1850; died, 1879.

He was born in Kingston, N. Y., November 29, 1791. After a course of preparation in the Kingston Academy, he entered Yale College in 1806, and was graduated with high honors from that institution in 1810. His law studies were pursued at the Law School at Litchfield, Connecticut, which was in charge of Judge Gould, and then considered the best institution of the kind in the United States. In 1814 he began the practice of his profession in Kingston. Here he soon acquired distinction for legal knowledge, commanding abilities and unflinching integrity. Elected a representative in Congress in 1825, he became intimate with Edward Everett, whom he subsequently welcomed to New York, with a public address when the latter delivered his great oration on Washington. From 1840 to 1850 he was the honored President of Rutgers College. By his Lectures on Constitutional Law, his genial manners, his generous hospitality, and his happy influence exerted on manifold public occasions, he contributed greatly to the prosperity of this venerable institution After his resignation he removed to Kingston, where he became president of the Kingston Bank, the founder of the Ulster County Historical Society, and an energetic advocate of many public and patriotic interests. The degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred upon him both by Union and Columbia Colleges. Mr. Hasbrouck was always studious in his habits, reading daily some Latin author, and eagerly devouring the latest and most valuable publications on a great varieties of topics. It is said that hardly a quotation could be made from an English author that he could not at once identify and find in the original work. His intellect, clear and powerful to the last, expressed his "longing to be at rest," and he passed away triumphant in faith, full of years and honors. He died at Kingston, New York, February 23, 1879. It is worthy of mention that the College is indebted to Mr. Hasbrouck for many of the noble trees that now adorn the campus. He was at much pains in having them planted and cared for; and to-day they stand the beautiful monuments of his forethought for coming generations. "Whoso planteth a tree, laboreth for posterity."

HON. THEODORE FRELINGHUYSEN, LL.D.

Appointed, 1850; Died, 1862.

The son of Gen. Frederick Frelinghuysen, and great-grandson of Rev. Theodorus J. Frelinghuysen, was born in Franklin township, Somerset county, New Jersey, March 28, 1787. The home of his boyhood was at Millstone, New Jersey. He attended the Grammar School of Queen's College, and afterward the Academy at Basking Ridge; was graduated from the College of New Jersey in 1804; studied law with Hon. Richard Stockton, of Princeton; practiced law at Newark, New Jersey; was Attorney-General of the State from 1817 to 1829; United States Senator, 1829-1835; Chancellor of the University of the City of New York, 1839-1850, and President of Rutgers College from 1850 to his death, which took place April 12, 1861. President Frelinghuysen was a wise counselor and an eloquent orator. He was successful at the Bar, in the Senate and in the presidency of literary institutions. His patriotism was intense, as his action in 1812 and again in 1861 proved. He was nominated for Vice President of the United States by the Whig convention of 1844, which nominated Henry Clay for President. Mr. Frelinghuysen was a man of simple and ardent piety, ever laboring to win souls for Christ. He loved the Church of God, and served long and faithfully in the eldership.

REV. WILLIAM HENRY CAMPBELL, D.D., LL.D.

Became President, 1863, and resigned June, 1881, but continued to act as President until his successor was inaugurated, June 20, 1882.

Dr. Campbell has been known many years in the States of New York and New Jersey as a thorough-going Biblical preacher—remarkable for his use of strong, terse, Saxon English, and intense earnestness in presenting Divine truth. Nor has he been less distinguished as a clear, vigorous and successful educator. He was born in Baltimore, 1808, and was graduated from Dickinson College in 1828, and three years later from the Theological Seminary at Princeton. His first settlement was at Chittenango, from 1831 to 1833, after which he labored for six years as principal of Erasmus Hall, at Flatbush, Long Island. From 1839 to 1841 he preached at East New York, whence he removed to Albany and assumed charge of the Third Reformed Church. In 1848 he returned to educational pursuits by accepting the principalship of the Albany Academy. Three years later, in 1851, he was called to the Professorship of Oriental Literature in the Theological Seminary at New Brunswick, and while in this position he filled, gratuitously, the Professorship of Belles-Lettres in Rutgers College during a period of twelve years. In 1863 he accepted, after much persuasion, the presidency, and entered with exceptional enthusiasm and ability upon his work, both of teaching and securing a larger endowment fund for the institution. During his administration over two hundred thousand dollars were raised; six new professorships established; the number of students doubled, and the following buildings erected: a large Geological Hall, a beautiful Chapel, an Astronomical Observatory, a new Grammar School, and certain useful structures on the experimental farm. These works tell their own story of diligent wisdom, and render a well-earned fame secure. With an appreciation full of liberality, individual members of the Board of Trustees, by their own personal subscription, provided means for the future support of Dr. Campbell during his lifetime. The willingness of Dr. Campbell to teach "The Evidences of Christianity," and to preach in turn in the College Chapel, was accepted by the trustees, which teaching and preaching ceased upon his becoming pastor of the Suydam Street Reformed Church in New Brunswick.

MERRILL EDWARDS GATES, PH.D., LL.D.

Inaugurated as President of Rutgers College, June 20, 1882.

His father, Seth M. Gates, in Congress from 1839 to 1843, and throughout a long life, was widely known and honorably distinguished for his services in the cause of liberty, justice and Christianity. Through his mother he is descended from Jonathan Edwards. He was born at Warsaw, New York, April 6, 1848; and was graduated from the University of Rochester, at Rochester, New York, in 1870, having taken the highest honors, in successive years, in Mathematics, Latin and Greek, and the English Essay Prize of the Senior year. Before his graduation he accepted the principalship of the Albany Academy, declining a very favorable offer to enter journalistic work, made by a prominent New York editor, who had noticed his literary work in college. During the twelve years of his principalship the Albany Academy extended its course of study from eight years to twelve, covering much of the work of the college course; while the number of boys and young men in attendance increased from 70 to 300. In 1872 he spent some months in England, visiting Rugby and Oxford, as educational centers. In 1875 he was elected Chancellor of the University of Tennessee, an institution nearly a century old, consisting of a law school and a college. Declining this position, he continued at Albany, notwithstanding repeated offers of college professorships, and more lucrative positions in his profession or in business. In 1879–80, he spent a year in travel and study abroad. He visited France, Italy, Egypt, Palestine and Greece, spending two months at Athens. His foreign correspondence, in the Albany Journal, was widely reprinted by other papers. Harper's Monthly for May, 1881, contains an illustrated paper of his on "Athens and the Modern Greeks," and lectures and addresses upon Greece and the study of Greek have attested his interest in these themes. In 1880 the University of the State of New York conferred on him the honorary degree of Doctor of Philosophy, and in June, 1882, both Princeton College and the University of Rochester gave him the degree of Doctor of Laws. President Gates is thoroughly identified with the cause of education. He has written, spoken and directed the work of the institutions over which he has presided with a view to increasing the efficiency of the work of American colleges by raising the standard of their scholarship and securing better and more thorough work in preparatory institutions. His administration at Rutgers is based upon two maxims: "Thoroughness in all work," and "No room at Rutgers for students who do not have a definite wish, and the manly purpose to make the best use of their time and opportunities."

For some years he has been a member of the American Social Science Association, and has taken an active interest in the Civil Service Reform. He was recently appointed by the President of the United States, one of the Board of Indian Commissioners, by the statute, "ten men, eminent for intelligence and philanthropy," who serve without compensation. He is in demand as a public speaker and lecturer; and during the last two years has spoken repeatedly in the principal cities of New Jersey, and in New York and New England, on themes of public interest connected with Education, Moral Reforms and Christianity.
